2 with.

3 And after we do that, you know, the 4 parties will know what the positions are 5 and you're going to be in a lot better
6 position to make infringement and 7 non-infringement allegations.

8 MR. PEASE: Well, our position on 9 that is I want to hear more about that. I
10 think we can probably come to a reasonable
11 approach and identify, let's say, 15 terms
12 that we're going to share or exchange, you
13 know, at the same time claim construction
14 positions on.

15 But I want to make clear we are not 16 -- that if we agree to that, it doesn't in 17 any way reflect our view that what Vizio
18 has done to date is acceptable. We're 19 still pressing forward to try to get your 20 infringement -- non-infringement
21 contentions and we believe we're entitled 22 to them and we believe that we are 23 entitled to them based on the information
24 that you now have.

25 MR. McCRUM: Okay. And I understand

2 your point and I see what you are saying
3 anyway but that's fine.

4 Let me know if -- all I'm asking is 5 to give some thought and add it to your 6 list of things to do and get back to me by 7 Friday.

8 MR. PEASE: We can do that. In the 9 meantime though, if you have more
10 specifics that you want to run by us, that 11 would be great.

12 MR. McCRUM: Yes, that's fine.

13 Let's get back to these claim charts
14 that we have before we got off on that 15 claim construction issue.

16 The other thing everyone is that the 17 claim charts, you know, as we mentioned
18 last time, Vizio is not designing and 19 developing the hard technology that goes
20 into these TV's.

21 The relevant functionality of the 22 accused Vizio TV's is based on the chips
23 used in those televisions. The large
24 majority of which are provided by Media
25 Tech and nowhere in these claim charts is
